Why invest in the First Sentier Asian Quality Bond Fund?

1. Asia is well positioned for a volatile year

- Asia remains the fastest growing region, with countries such as Indonesia and India still having a strong domestic story to support strong growth
- Asian central banks have more flexibility in their monetary policies, as well as the levers to support respective economies as global growth slows

Region	IMF Global GDP growth (%)
	2025F	2026F
Asia*	4.5	4.6
United States	1.8	1.7
Europe	0.8	1.2
Emerging Markets and Developing Economies	3.7	3.9

* Emerging and Developing Asia

2. Relatively stable inflation in Asia

- Inflation has been less of a problem for Asia when compared to developed economies and ex-Asia emerging markets
- Asian central banks to have more flexibility in their monetary policies, should the need arise as global growth slows

*Exclude Turkey and Argentina.

- The Fund invests primarily in debt securities of governments or quasi-government organization in Asia and/or issuers organised, headquartered or having their primary business operations in Asia.
- The Fund's investments may be concentrated in a single, small number of countries or specific region which may have higher volatility or greater loss of capital than more diversified portfolios.
- The Fund invests in emerging markets which may have increased risks than developed markets including liquidity risk, currency risk/control, political and economic uncertainties, high degree of volatility, settlement risk and custody risk.
- The Fund invests in sovereign debt securities which are exposed to political, social and economic risks. The Fund may also expose to RMB currency and conversion risk.
- The Fund invests in debts or fixed income securities which may be subject to credit, interest rate, currency and credit rating reliability risks which would negatively affect its value. Investment grade securities may be subject to risk of being downgraded and the value of the Fund may be adversely affected. The Fund may invest in below investment grade, unrated debt securities which exposes to greater volatility risk, default risk and price changes due to change in the issuer's creditworthiness.
- The Fund may use FDIs for hedging and efficient portfolio management purposes, which may subject the Fund to additional liquidity, valuation, counterparty and over the counter transaction risks.
- For certain share classes, the Fund may at its discretion pay dividend out of capital or pay fees and expenses out of capital to increase distributable income and effectively a distribution out of capital. This amounts to a return or withdrawal of your original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that, and may result in an immediate decrease of NAV per share.
- It is possible that a part or entire value of your investment could be lost. You should not base your investment decision solely on this document. Please read the offering document including risk factors for details.

3. Asian Investment Grade (IG) credit is looking attractive from an all-in yield perspective

- At current yields of approximately 5%, Asian IG offers an attractive income
- With stable debt ratios and still healthy cash balances, solid fundamentals in Asian IG corporates will help the asset class remain resilient through a downturn

Source: Bloomberg as of 31 March 2025.

4. Strong government and ownership support among Asia's credit issuers

- Sovereigns such as Indonesia and the Philippines have enjoyed improving economic fundamentals in the region
- Quasi-sovereigns benefit from strong government backing
