The value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up and is not guaranteed. Investors may get back significantly less than the original amount invested.

The Fund may experience the following risks:

Emerging market risk: Emerging markets tend to be more sensitive to economic and political conditions than developed markets. Other factors include greater liquidity risk, restrictions on investment or transfer of assets, failed/delayed settlement and difficulties valuing securities.

Currency risk: The Fund invests in assets which are denominated in other currencies; changes in exchange rates will affect the value of the Fund and could create losses. Currency control decisions made by governments could affect the value of the Fund's investments and could cause the Fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

Value Investment Style risk: The fund has a 'value' style bias to its investment approach. A value investment style looks for companies or assets that are undervalued at the time of purchase with the belief that their value will increase over time. Under certain market conditions, value investing may underperform relative to the market.

For further information on risks, please refer to the Risk Factors section in the Company prospectus.
